

Ecclesiastical Declarations - Property & Asset Protections

1. Declaration of Ecclesiastical Property Ownership

All property titled under this Private Ecclesiastical Trust is held in sacred custodianship and cannot be lawfully seized, taxed, or regulated by any foreign jurisdiction.

This includes, but is not limited to, land, housing, conveyances, instruments, and effects secured by trust authority.

The trust is the sole holder of equitable and legal title under ecclesiastical jurisdiction.

2. Writ of Sanctuary and Protection

Property held in trust is declared as sanctuary under divine law, and no agent of civil authority may enter without invitation or treaty.

Any incursion upon this domain will constitute an ecclesiastical trespass and be rebutted through lawful remedy.

All assets are shielded under spiritual writ and remain non-commercial by nature.

3. Rebuttal of Taxation and Civil Claims

No tax, levy, or fee may be imposed upon trust property without direct violation of divine jurisdiction.

The trust does not consent to assessments under municipal, county, state, or federal codes, nor does it enter contract through silence or assumption.

All such claims are rebuked unless supported by mutual agreement in equity.

4. Affidavit of Non-Participation in Civil Registry of Titles

The trust is not party to any civil system of registration, titling, or enforcement.

Any record appearing in public databases regarding trust assets is either outdated, unconsented, or involuntarily presumed and must be lawfully corrected.

This affidavit stands as notice of ecclesiastical ownership in all matters of property.

Sealed by authority of the Ecclesiastical Private Trust.
